Rocky Mountain High!

The last meeting with Norm Muggleston was a good one. Since then, some of our more intrepid members have sallied forth to Boston and though none was able to best Bill Rodgers, it was apparently a most enjoyable effort. Of course, there was some last minute chaos...change of meeting place and all that. Consequently I'm going to announce the meeting for the basement of the First Northern Plaza Building at Sandoval and Water on Tuesday, May 8th at 8PM, BUT check the bottom of this newsletter if I suddenly learn differently.

On the 8th, we're featuring Bill Silverberg, the UNM track coach on racing and training.

PLUS, for those who didn't attend the last meeting, we've been asked by the new ROCKY MOUNTAIN MAGAZINE to supervise and conduct the Santa Fe phase of their first annual CAPITOL RUNAROUND. It's a 10km race being run in the state capitols of Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Colorado and New Mexico on Saturday morning June 23rd at 9PM.

Due to the small turn-out at the meeting, we were limited in our choices as to who would be race director. In a move roughly akin to teaching turtles to fly....I was selected. Odds, however, still favor a successful race. We're in the process of selecting committees to handle the necessary chores. Most of our members will probably want to run (and indeed should be able to) but we still will need help in registration, course supervision and finish line supervision.

It sounds exciting. By the time of the next meeting, the skeleton of our participation should be fairly well hung together. The club should make out quite nicely too. Our compensation will be $1 per entrant up to 1,000 entries and $1.25 over that. A portion of the monies will be paid to us in the form of a new chronomix timer!

If this keeps on....hell, the Striders will be a very, very viable entity. I mean, we may not take Boston, but how could you pass up a business like this???

Come on down to the next meeting. We'd really welcome both your questions and your input on this June 23rd item. NOW, check below this line. If there's nothing....we're meeting as above!
